

Geranium Lancastriense

Geranium 'Lancastriense'

❁ A blush of pink graces these plentiful pale blossoms, with a flush of magenta throughout the delicately patterned veins and along the stems. Small rounded leaves are divided into segments and deeply toothed lobes, casting a fine textured air and a last hurrah as russet, orange and red emblazon their surfaces in autumn. Blooms from spring until frost.

❁ Provides a softening aspect wherever its planted.
